Battle Big Oil Slick

ALMA, Wis. (AP) — The Corps of Engineers today ordered men and equipment to take up a battle against an ugly film of oil, which spread for 25 miles along the scenic upper Mississippi River from a wrecked barge.

Col. Richard J. Hesse, head of the corps' St. Paul, Minn., division, ordered a survey team into the area.

Also dispatched was a vacuum truck. Col. Hesse said the machine will be used to suck up the oil where possible, probably into barges. Booms will be used to contain the oil, where that can be done, to keep the film from spreading.

Hesse said the quantity of oil which leaked from the wrecked barge was not as great as originally feared. He said it amounted to about 40,000 gallons — about one-tenth of the first estimate.

The oil was several inches deep in some backwater areas, Hesse said, and it will be in those places that the vacuum truck will be useful. More trucks will be brought in if they're needed, Hesse said.

Elsewhere, where the oil is only a thin film atop the water's surface, removal will be difficult. Hesse said that rain had helped to dissipate the film.

"It's like living in a refinery," said James Everson, a Wisconsin conservation warden. "A lot of people are pretty unhappy. All of a sudden we get a big slug of petroleum right in the middle of some of the clearest water on the Mississippi."

The diesel oil slick began floating downstream between tree-clad bluffs Monday from a barge which struck a current-diverting wing dam about a mile above Alma.

Young Masters

Perhaps the techniques employed aren't quite the same as Rembrandt or Da Vinci used, but then, everyone has his own style of painting. Shown participating in the Sedalia Council on the Arts "Paint-In" are, left to right: Brian and Jack Beaudette, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Beaudette, 1000 West 10th, and Rebecca Kueck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kueck, 904 South Quincy. Colorful 'Paint-In' Held

"But what'll I paint?" "What do we do?" and "What colors do I mix to get brown?" were among the questions asked by some of Sedalia's youngsters who turned out for a "Paint-In" in front of C. W. Flower's store at 6 p.m. Tuesday.

The Paint-In was sponsored by the Sedalia Council on the Arts as a form of recreation for participating youngsters as well as to advertise the upcoming second annual Art Fair, which will be held at the Fine Arts Building on the State Fairgrounds Friday through Sunday.

Mrs. Judy Bishop, 1003 East Broadway, a member of the council, set up the paint-in for Sedalia after seeing a similar project held in the state of California. She said the Paint-In was a "success and lots of fun." A total of 24 youngsters participated in the event.

Jupiter, Flowers, Blade's Shoe Shack, Wilson's, Priddy's, and Penneys allowed front store windows of their establishments to be used for the event. Each child was asked to paint anything he wanted on the window.

Douglass Freed, art instructor at State Fair Community College, will judge the works, which will remain on store windows during the next week.

The winning entries will receive prizes from the Fox and Drive-In Theaters, Dog 'n Suds, Dairy Queen, Fresh and Rich, Kroger, and the Sedalia swimming pool.

Sherwin-Williams donated the tempora paint for the project.

School Board Says 'No' to Mixing Plan

The Sedalia Board of Education Tuesday night denied the existence of racial discrimination in the school system, and rejected two conciliation proposals made by the Missouri Human Rights Commission.

The board met in closed session and authorized Dr. T. J. Norris, superintendent of schools, to notify the commission by letter of the board's decision. The letter reads:

"The Board of Education has instructed me to inform you in writing as to their decision on the proposals you presented to them at the last board meeting on June 10, 1969.

"After careful consideration and much deliberation it is the unanimous opinion of this Board of Education that they and the school system are not guilty of any of the charges made by your Commission.

"First, the Commission charge that pupils are assigned to schools on the basis of race is untrue. In the case of Smith-Cotton High School all high school students in Sedalia attend the same school. In the case of the elementary school districts, all children attend the school of the district in which they reside. However, in the case of Mark Twain, Hubbard and Jefferson, there are no boundary lines between these schools and it is considered all one district. Students, either negro or white, can attend any one of the three schools.

"The fact that negro students attend Hubbard School is due to a choice on the part of their parents and not due to assignment. We have had negro parents in the past who have chosen to send their children to Mark Twain. These children were admitted to Mark Twain and attended Mark Twain and under our policy any negro children wishing to attend either Mark Twain or Jefferson would be enrolled and allowed to attend school at either school.

"In the case of teachers, the teachers in Sedalia are assigned to the school that they request as much as possible. Each and every year before the April board meeting, teachers are sent a form on which the question is asked "Do you desire any change in your present assignment?" The teachers that teach at Hubbard School as well as the teachers that teach at all of the elementary schools are teaching in those schools because this is their desire. No teacher is assigned to Hubbard School because of their race but is assigned at their own request. At Smith-Cotton High School and Hubbard School we have both white and negro teachers.

"For the above reasons the Board of Education does not feel that it is guilty of either of the charges and it is their contention that the Sedalia Public Schools should be allowed to continue to operate as they have in the past few years."

The next move is up to the commission, Dr. Norris said.

At a previous meeting it was brought out that in case conciliation is not reached, the next step will be a public hearing, with the attorney general assuming jurisdiction. This public hearing, according to Richard Risk, executive director of the commission, would be conducted before three members of the commission.

Harold Whitfield, acting conciliation director of the commission, addressed the Board of Education and several interested parties at the June 10 board meeting, presented the state's complaint alleging racial discrimination in the Sedalia public school system and presented the two proposals which he explained would be an acceptable solution to the problem.

Surtax Opponents Press Bid to Defeat Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has scored a substantial gain in his drive for a full year's extension of the income surtax but opponents are continuing their effort to cut it back, if not in the House, then in the Senate.

The House Ways and Means Committee Tuesday gave its approval to the Nixon anti-inflation package, practically intact.

It includes continuation of the surtax at its present 10 per cent rate through Dec. 30, with the rate halved for the first six months of fiscal 1970, tax relief for low income taxpayers, repeal of the investment credit and postponement of scheduled reductions in automobile and telephone excise taxes.

The House will vote next week.

Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., acting chairman of the committee, pledged support and cited endorsement of leaders of both parties in the House. But he predicted a tough fight and would not claim victory in advance.

The committee was unofficially reported to have voted 15-10 against an amendment to cut back the surtax extension to Oct. 31.

Five Democrats out of the 15 on the committee joined all 10 Republicans in defeating the shorter period, sources said. Thus the measure goes to the Democratic-controlled House with its key provision endorsed by only one-third of the committee Democrats.

Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, a committee member who is pushing for a shorter extension promised to continue the fight in the Rules Committee and the House. He and his associates fear leverage for early tax reform will be lost if the surtax is extended for a long period.

Dispute in Senate Delays Legislation

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The legislative hour is growing late and mounting tension erupted in the Missouri Senate Tuesday.

The dispute was short-lived, however, and both sides said later closed door discussion was amicable.

The flare of tempers came as the Senate passed a proposed constitutional amendment to let the state treasurer succeed himself. Minority Republicans raised a storm of protest as they tried to block Senate action to put the proposition on the ballot for the voters to decide.

Eighteen votes are required in the upper chamber to pass legislation and it appeared during voting on the amendment the vote was going to be at least one short.

Sen. Lem T. Jones, R-Kansas City, shouted for verification of the roll call. According to parliamentary rules that would have frozen the vote so it could not be reconsidered unless two-thirds of the Senate—23 members—agreed to back up.

Sen. Robert A. Young, D-St. Ann, desired to change his vote, however, and some other senators had not cast their vote. Lt. Gov. William Morris, who was presiding, recognized them and ignored Joones' demands.

This outraged Sen. Richard M. Webster, R-Carthage, who called for minority Republicans to caucus immediately in the corridor. Webster said he had never before seen a call for verification ignored.

Other senators began clamoring for recognition to argue about the situation.

Sen. A. Basey Vanlandingham, D - Columbia, majority leader, cut off public debate on the issue and called for an executive session.

Later both Republicans and Democratic leaders said they had agreed on the ground rules for verification. In the future, no one will be recognized for that purpose unless he asks the presiding officer for recognition.

As Sen. Earl R. Blackwell, D - Hillsboro, Senate president pro tem, pointed out, this will give members and the presiding officer a clear cut understanding of what is required for recognition.

This will become increasingly important as the session nears its closing hour of midnight June 30.

Committee For Bonds Is Formed

A steering committee meeting to promote the Permaneer industrial bond issue was held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, in the office of William Hall, industrial development director.

A film was shown explaining the diversity of the St. Louis-based Permaneer Corp. The proposed plant in Sedalia will manufacture a vinyl-coated exterior siding material used in home construction. Permaneer also manufactures vinyl shield paneling, hollow core doors, mirrors and glass, store fixtures and furniture for the home in their plants in the states of Oregon and California and Wright City and Union, Mo. Many of the products are marketed by Georgia Pacific.

The firm's net worth is currently $9,100,000, Hall explained. The sales goal of Permaneer this year is $60 million, compared to $29 million in sales last year. Sales have totaled $30 million during the first five months of this year.

The proposed 40-acre building site is located on North State Fair Boulevard, directly north of the Missouri Pacific tracks. Although this location is presently outside of the city limits, Hall stated that the tract is being placed before the city planners for annexation into the city of Sedalia.

The $1,200,000 Industrial obligation bond issue could be accomplished at no increase in taxation. The 20-year bond issue would be retired by rent

U.S. Installations Hard Hit During Red Attacks

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers marked their fourth anniversary in the Vietnam war today as North Vietnamese troops stepped up attacks on American installations in the areas near Laos and Cambodia.

Spokesmen said the enemy killed 13 Americans and wounded 28 in two fierce assaults early today while 72 North Vietnamese died. U.S. military analysts said captured enemy documents indicated the Communist Command has ordered increased sapper attacks on American bases.

About 200 North Vietnamese infantrymen and sappers assaulted a base of the 1st Brigade, 5th Mechanized Infantry Division, three miles south of the abandoned Khe Sanh combat base, with machine guns, rifles and rocket-propelled grenades. The base is four miles from the Laotian border.

U.S. defenders returned the fire, helicopter gunships rushed to their aid and fighting raged for about two hours. The North Vietnamese withdrew leaving 35 of their dead, some of them strung along the barbed wire perimeter of the base.

U.S. headquarters said 10 Americans were killed and 12 wounded.

Far to the south near the Cambodian border, North Vietnamese troops armed with satchel charges and rocket-propelled grenades attacked a night base camp of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division in War Zone C, 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

That battle too raged for several hours before American artillery and helicopter gunships drove back the enemy.

Thirty-seven North Vietnamese soldiers and three Americans were reported killed in the fight, and 16 Americans were wounded.

Twenty-four miles to the northeast, South Vietnamese civilian irregulars led by an American tank column fought a 3½-hour battle with North Vietnamese troops in a rubber plantation shortly after daylight. The allied force, backed by American bombers and helicopter gunships, reported killing 31 North Vietnamese.

One South Vietnamese irregular was killed and six irregulars and one American wounded, military spokesmen said.

The B52 bombers marked their anniversary with 10 missions against North Vietnamese bases and troop concentrations near the Laotian and Cambodian borders. The strikes ranged from 51 miles northwest of Saigon to 281 miles northeast of the capital.

Four years ago today, 30 of the eight-jet Stratofortresses flew 2,400 miles from Guam and entered the war by pounding Viet Cong troop concentrations 30 miles north of Saigon.

Since those first raids, the

The advisory commission was set up in the Eisenhower administration. Its mission is to study and recommend ways of improving relations among the main branches of government — federal, state and local.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A rash of reports circulated in Rome today that the Vatican is selling its vast holdings of Italian stocks to American companies. A Vatican spokesman said he had been instructed not to comment on the reports.

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The nation's mayors adopted a resolution today supporting President Nixon's plan to extend the surtax as a weapon against inflation.

However, the mayors, attending the U.S. Conference of Mayors annual meeting, said the proceeds of the surtax should be "directed to solving the problems of the cities."

Rainfall Here Ahead of Level For Last Year

With almost half of 1969 gone, rainfall figures show a definite increase in precipitation over 1968. Last year was a near normal year for rainfall, but this year precipitation has been running well ahead of the average.

So far this month there have been 4.15 inches of rain, compared to 1.93 inches for the same period in 1968 — more than twice as much precipitation. Not only is the month of June ahead of last year, but the overall total so far this year is 19.55 inches, 6.54 inches more than last year's total of 13.01 inches.

Monthly figures for 1968 were January, .57; February, .20; March, 1.01; April, 2.99; May, 6.31; and the first half of June, 1.93. May was the only month which registered above the 1969 figures.

Monthly figures for 1969 were January, 2.30; February, 2.08; March, 2.36; April, 5.68; May, 2.98; and the first half of June, 4.15.

Tentative Settlement Is Reached

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking deck officers have reached a tentative settlement with a major portion of the nation's merchant marine, ending a two-day tieup at East and Gulf Coast ports.

Agreements reached Tuesday night between two shipowner groups and the International Organization of Masters, Mates and pilots, AFL-CIO, affect more than 400 freighters and passenger liners.

Bargaining was set to resume today on contracts for 150 tankers.

A new Sedalia Optimist Club was organized Tuesday evening at the State Fair Restaurant, the Sunset Optimist Club.

Representing the Optimist International at the meeting was a past international president, Ralph Glasscock, Clinton.

Elected president of the new club was Tom McCully, 1002 Royal Blvd. Serving as vice-presidents will be Joe Van Horn and Les Whited.

Other officers elected were Rex Hutchings, Jim Herst, and Dale Lane, two-year term directors; and Tom Howe, Larry Farrin, and George Stuart, one-year term directors.

Formal presentation of the charter will be held at a later date.

The organization of the Sunset Club gives Sedalia three Optimist Clubs: the Sunset, Noon and Sunrise Clubs.

The new club will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesdays at the State Fair Restaurant.

Begin Proceedings Against Airline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board announced it has started an enforcement proceeding against Trans World Airlines on a complaint that it has illegally exchanged free transportation for advertising and publicity in newspapers and magazines.

The complaint said TWA supplied transportation worth $2,000 to a writer for Carte Blance Magazine, $1,500 for a reporter for the Chicago Sun-Times and $1,500 for a writer for Gentlemen's Quarterly.

Kansas State Penitentiary Hit by Riot

LANSING, Kan. (AP) — Rioting, which prison officials said apparently was touched off by a general shakedown of the institution "and a disturbed night's sleep," broke out at the Kansas State Penitentiary today.

The trouble began as inmates went to their respective job assignments after breakfast. Warden Sherman Crouse said that at 10:30 a.m. order had been generally restored.

Prison officials said tear gas was used, "but not indiscriminatly, to bring the inmates under control."

Windows were broken in two cellhouses and numerous small fires were set.

One inmate was shot in the arm, but prison authorities said no employes of the institution were injured.

Black Panthers in Spotlight

WASHINGTON (AP) — A police captain furnished a Senate investigative subcommittee today with evidence Black Panther chieftains have called for destruction of American industry.

Capt. John E. Drass of the Washington, D.C., police department gave the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations transcripts of statements made by Black Panther leaders in foreign countries and radio interviews broadcast from Cuba.

He quoted George Mason Murray, the party's minister of education, and Joudon Ford, a Panther leader in New York as saying in Cuba last August:

"So long as we are alive there will be no industry, factory, bank, or company that is safe. We do not guarantee the lives of their congressmen, candidates, generals or businessmen who control power. We shall use bullets, birdshot, kitchen knives and everything at hand to destroy imperialism."

Huey P. Newton, Black Panther minister of defense convicted of killing an Oakland, Calif., policeman, was quoted in a telephone interview from his jail cell as saying, "The Black Panther party considers itself an integral part of the army of resistance to U.S. imperialism that is being mobilized all over the world—we need not only a Watts but many Watts throughout the U.S. and throughout the world."

Capt. Drass, who said he had been on detached duty as a subcommittee investigator since January 1968 to investigate the Black Panthers, testified the exact numerical membership of the party is now known. He said it is estimated the number does not exceed 4,000.

"The subcommittee has the names of about 2,000 identified members and has obtained the arrest record of approximately 350 officers and members of the Black Panther party," he said.

"Of this number about 90 per cent have been convicted of crimes of violence."

Two defectors from the party were scheduled to follow the police captain in testimony before the subcommittee, which is probing urban and campus violence in the United States.

The investigation is being directed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the subcommittee.

The panel's previous hearings were devoted to the radical Students for a Democratic Society, which has also come under new attack by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover for allegedly following a Communist blueprint to disrupt war production.

Hoover, writing in a labor union newspaper, said the summer "work-in" manual issued by SDS is actually a document originally drafted by pro-Red Chinese American Communists.

The Associated Press last month described the "work-in" manual in detail, including plans to persuade workers to stop war production.

"Closing down our schools is not enough," the SDS instructions said. "Workers produce and move the goods that are used in the war and it is they who are primarily forced to fight the war. They can stop it."

In writing to the Machinists, Hoover said SDS wants to convince workers "that this country is 'rotten,' 'sick,' and 'diseased,' and therefore should be destroyed.

Mora Plot Was Purchased When Buchanan President

By Hazel Lang

MORA — The 40 acres of land on which the town of Mora is located was purchased from the United States government by Charles B. Hoard on Dec. 10, 1859, at the time James Buchanan was president.

Hoard had come to Missouri from Wayne, W. Va., and settled in that area.

Lay Rail Link

It was in 1880 that the Missouri Pacific put through its narrow gauge railroad from Sedalia to Warsaw through the section of land owned by Hoard who deeded the 40 acres to the Osage Construction Co., as an inducement for the railroad to establish a depot there on the railroad line, known as the Sedalia, Warsaw and Southern Railway Co. The trains had already started running the first part of that year.

On Jan. 17, 1882, the dedication by Cyrus Newkirk to Mora took place with names listed being D. H. Smith, E. A. Phillips and R. H. Melton. The land was platted and laid out as a flag station.

Peter Holtzen had the first store in the community. The trade at that early time was chiefly railroad ties, but after several years a depot was built. The first depot agent was Fred Holtzen.

Dick Mahnken, who had a grocery and hardware store, became the first postmaster in 1901 and lived in Mora until 1929. Henry Wilshusen and Dietrick Kueck had the first blacksmith shop which was owned by Kueck from 1886 to 1894. His daughter, Mrs. Emil Gerken, lives in Cole Camp.

The building that housed this blacksmith shop is located on the main street of the community next to the hardware store. It later became a garage, but today is used only as a warehouse. Others who were blacksmiths in Mora through the years were: Lee Blacke, Ringen, Riggs, August Eckhoff, Dick Bishop and Ernest Stelling, who was the last to work at that trade there.

Run Until 1928

The shop was sold to Herbert Heineman in 1928, who operated the garage in the building for several years, selling it to Albert Meyer when he moved from Mora. Meyer still owns the building although he closed the business several years ago.

Will Fajen owned the first lumber yard with John Moss next in the business, from 1904 to 1926. While Moss was county surveyor and highway engineer, the lumber yard was managed for a year or so by Conrad Schnakenberg. In 1926 to 1949 Rudolph Behrens, who bought the lumber company from Moss, operated it. During that time Behrens also served as postmaster, station agent and express agent.

In the early days of the railroad Mora was quite a shipping point for railroad ties and livestock. Drennen was among the first section foremen on the road.

Among other early settlers in Mora were the Gert Buck, Ehlers, Rugen, Dick Monsees and H. P. Guthrie families. Other families living there in the past years have been those of George Albers, Rudolph Albers, Emil Gerken, Ernest Balke, Roy Williams, Ed Gerken and Milburn Miesner.

Sold the Store

Herman Fajen owned a store during the early days which he sold to J. E. Bluhm in 1902. Louis Balke owned and operated it for several years and when he moved away sold it to O. E. Schlesselman. While the store was owned by Schlesselman it was destroyed by fire.

A new store was built on the site by Elmer Grother and his father and was operated for several years by Elmer and his wife. J. R. Maltsbarger then bought the business and ran it for a long time. Although he still owns the building, he closed the store.

The ground on which stands the large frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kroenke at the entrance of the main stree of Mora on the northwest corner was purchased in 1894 by Henry Wilshusen and in 1897 sold to the first doctor in Mora. Dr. Guido Schaff and his wife, Theresa, built the home sometime between that year and 1899.

Dr. Schaff had his office and a drug store in part of the house.

The house was sold to Dr. Henry P. Guthrie and his wife, Julia, in 1903, who sold it to Edward Hobein in 1906. Hobein sold it five years later to John M. Moss. It remained the property of Moss until 1926 when it was purchased by Rudolph Behrens and the present owners bought it from Behrens on June 1, 1953.

Taught in German

A parochial school house was built in Mora in 1901 by the congregation of St. Paul's Lutheran Church at a cost of $306. Mrs. John Moss was the teacher, assisted by the Rev. R. C. Klinksick and other pastors of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The teaching was done in the German language.

On the first Sunday of every month church services were held in the school house by the pastors of the church until about 1920. The school building was then sold and moved to the farm now owned by Leon Gerken near Mora.

Ben Mowrey was the first mail carrier in Mora, with Boyd Dump of Cole Camp carrying the mail from June, 1903, to November, 1929. He served as national secretary of the National Rural Letter Carriers Association two terms in 1923 and 1924.

In 1923 Elmer O'Farrell exchanged rural mail routes with Richard Stearman of Oklahoma. In 1924 Stearman met and married Lora Moffett, a school teacher at Prairie Grove School, three miles north of Mora.

Did the Job

It was in 1927 that his health became bad and Lora, realizing that this was her husband's job, decided she would pinch-hit for him. By the time he was well again she liked the job so much herself she wanted to keep it and she was then appointed as regular carrier, in December, 1928.

Stearman, who had regained his health, then built and operated a feed store until 1950, at which time the building was leased to the Mora Lumber Co., and is so operated at the present time.

In the early years the mail carriers used horse-drawn hacks, and at times a two-wheeled cart. Sometimes, when the weather was bad, it took them all day to cover their route.

The hack or carriage with which Mrs. Stearman started was a four-wheeled vehicle with an enclosed box-like top. On each side were sliding windows so the carrier could put the mail in the rural boxes without stepping out.

The early route was 26 miles long and wound through stretches of prairie land and forests. One piece of that road was a continuous mud hole for nine miles whenever it rained.

Roads are Better

The roads are good now, compared to those early days, and there are now bridges where at one time there were none. The tour now has increased from the original 26 miles to 83 miles and serves both the Mora and Florence post offices.

Even after she gave up the hack, bad weather still brought trouble to her and her Model T Ford. In fact, in the first year she used her team and hack more than her car. It was an all day job, from early morning until dark, but Lora loved it. Along the way were friends who greeted her whether she was in the hack or in the Model T. They often asked favors of her such as the woman who asked her to wrap her package for her because she couldn't find any string.

But then the people did favors for her, too. In those early days, when her husband was not well, neighbors would come mornings to hitch her team up for her. It has always been a community where people did things for each other.

The Model T isn't like her present car and the roads in those early days were a far cry from those today in which she can cover her route in three hours.

Caught By Water

Once, during high water, she got stuck in a stream which flooded her engine and filled the crank case with sand and gravel. Well, there she sat, and there wasn't a thing she could do. Finally she climbed out of the car, waded to land and went to a nearby house. Again someone was ready to help her. A farmer, with a team of horses, pulled her out, and after she got the car started she went merrily on her way, never realizing that wasn't the thing to do. She did get home, all right, but she had ruined her car because she didn't know she should have drained the crank case. She had to get a new car because the motor was ruined.

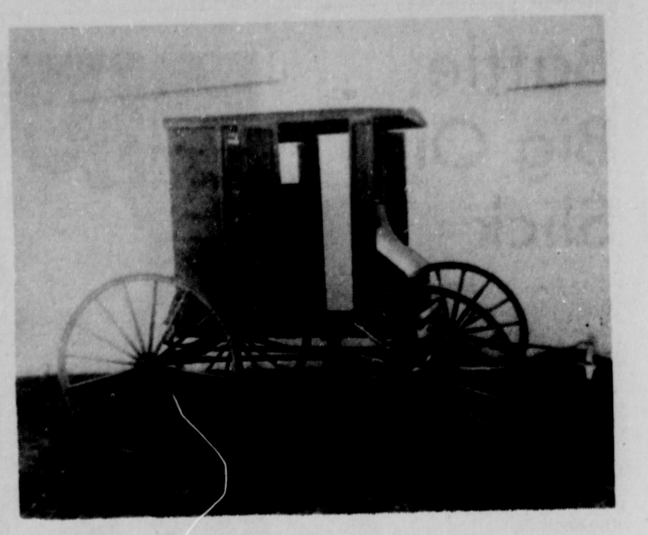

When in 1960 the Post Office Department learned that an old mail hack was still in existence, it sent word to Alvin Kroenke to ship the old carriage to

Little Spider Packs Big Wallop

Brown recluse spider time has arrived again in Missouri. According to the University of Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station, most bites experienced by individuals in the state occur between June and October each year.

Evidence that the brown recluse exists in this area was gathered first-hand by Marion Bogle, 4100 South Kentucky, when he found two of them near Windsor last Friday.

The spiders were spotted by Bogle along the railroad tracks near Windsor in an oil company equipment booth. One of the spiders escaped under a mop board but Bogle was able to capture the other one in a malt cup and he brought it to The Democrat.

Bogle said he was able to identify the spider as a brown recluse because he had recently read articles about them. Identification was confirmed by Robert Solomon, biology instructor at State Fair Community College. Solomon said the spiders are not as uncommon as one might think in this area.

Bites from the spider normally kill the tissue around the area bitten. Often the victim is not aware of the bite until two or three hours afterward. Painful reaction may occur immediately, however. The area around the bite becomes congested and swollen. High temperature and restlessness follow. Nausea, joint pains, and severe abdominal cramps may also occur.

The wound eventually blisters and is surrounded by a hemorrhage. An ulcer may develop, followed by gangrene.

The tissue gradually sloughs away, exposing the underlying muscles. Healing takes six to eight weeks and usually leaves a sunken scar from the size of a penny to a half-dollar. In 1957 a case was reported that turned gangrenous and created a wound three inches across.

Englargement of the wound is in a downward direction. Skin grafts have been necessary in some cases to close the wound.

Sometimes other reactions such as kidney disorders or rashes occur. These are the result of a "full bite" or extreme sensitivity to the venom and usually requires hospitalization.

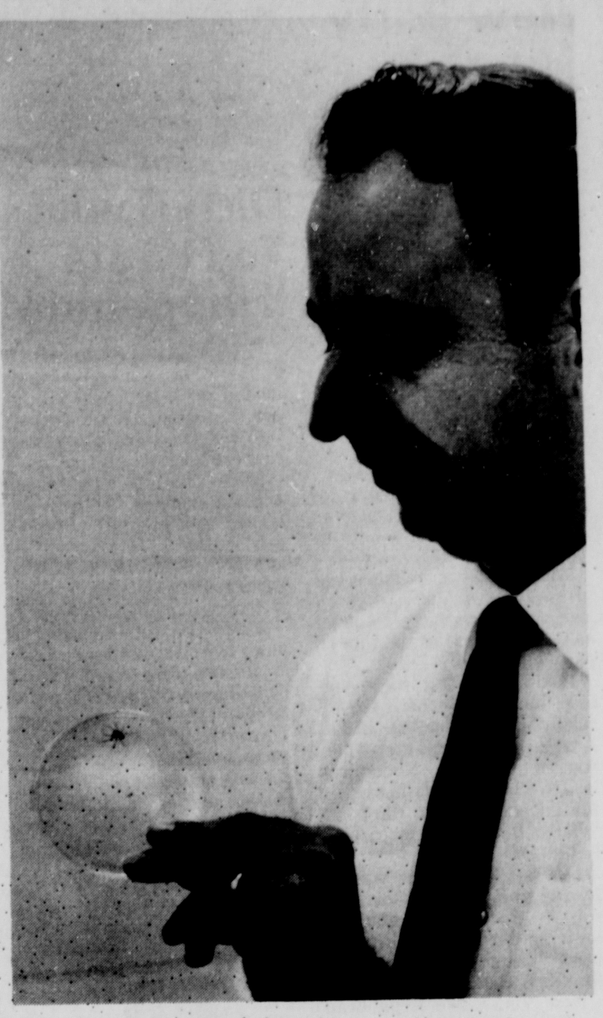

The brown recluse gets its name because of its habits and color. It avoids light and lives in cracks and crevices particularly around dwellings and outbuildings. It also has been found inside bundles of bedding and clothing and in dark storage areas.

Long legs, a color that varies from light fawn to dark chocolate, dense short hair (not noticeable to the unaided eye), and a broad dark fiddle-shaped band which extends from just behind the eyes to the end of the head characterize the brown recluse. This latter feature has given the spider the nickname of "The Fiddler."

The Fiddler is considered more dangerous than the black widow because its appearance is insignificant. The brown recluse bites only when it is disturbed or feels threatened. Victims of the brown recluse should be treated by a physician.

The brown recluse was first identified by doctors at the University of Missouri in the late 1950's as the cause of a bite that refused to heal.

It is found throughout the Central and Southern states. In Missouri it is most abundant in the southern half of the state and along the Missouri River. It is practically non-existent in the northern half of the state.

Mistake Leaves Him a New Roof

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Neighbors probably are at least half envious of Earnest Templeton.

He awoke one morning to the sound of hammers banging away on his rooftop.

Sure enough, there were repair men replaeing the shingles on his roof.

Only Templeton hadn't ordered any roof repairs.

The workmen insisted they had the right address. Templeton finally persuaded the contractor to come out to his home for a first hand check. Sure enough, the contractor had copied the wrong address.

Now, Templeton has half a new roof—cost-free.

People In The News

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — The New Hampshire Legislature has voted to name a mountain after the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

A bill changing the name of Mt. Pleasant in the White Mountains to Mt. Eisenhower was adopted Tuesday by the House. It had already passed the Senate. Peaks in New Hampshire already named after presidents include Mts. Washington, Adams, Monroe, Jackson and Jefferson.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bandleader Stan Kenton's wife Jo Ann has sued him for divorce and asks the court to prevent Kenton from molesting her.

Mrs. Kenton, 29, said her 57-year-old husband is living at Synanon House, a private drug rehabilitation center in nearby Santa Monica. She told the court Tuesday she "feared for her life."

The Kenton's were married 23 months ago in Las Vegas, Nev. They have no children.

In her suit, Mrs. Kenton asks the court to award her all community property, estimated at $225,000.

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) — Michael Sidney Luft, Judy Garland's former husband, has been convicted by a jury of passing a $2,639 bad check.

The jury acquitted Luft Tuesday of a second charge of passing a $1,000 bad check.

Luft, who is still Miss Garland's business manager, wrote the checks to a hotel in Asbury Park last June to cover her bill while she was performing at a nearby theater. He said, "I thought I had the money in the bank, but apparently I was overdrawn."

Luft, who said he would appeal, faces a maximum penalty of three years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Permaneer Corp., is featured in the June issue of Harbinger Magazine, a publication of the Missouri Division of Commerce and Industrial Development. The article traces the firm's development and calls its growth pattern "almost unbelievable."

Also brought out in the article is the problem Permaneer has had with industrial "spies" interested in learning the unique process employed in manufacture of Permaneer products. Merger offers have also been made, it states, in an attempt to learn the secrets of the firm's success in making vinyl paneling.

Attacks

B52s have dropped more than one million tons of bombs on North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces and bases ranging from the Mekong Delta in South Vietnam to North Vietnam's southern panhandle.

Use of the big bombers in a guerrilla war in jungles has drawn some sharp criticism.

The B52s fly out of bases in Guam, Okinawa and Thailand. Each sortie—a flight by one plane—costs an estimated $30,000. This figures out to about $1.5 billion for the four-year bombing campaign, not counting maintenance costs for the 100 bombers.

The Strategic Air Command says it never has lost one of the $8 million bombers to enemy ground fire, but seven of the bombers have been lost in air collisions and on landing and takeoff. On the first B52 mission, two Stratofortresses collided and crashed in the Pacific, killing eight crewmen.

Critics of the B52s claim they produce few tangible results for their enormous cost. But Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, and some of his field officers, call the B52 one of the most valuable weapons of war.

"The Stratofortresses perform three important missions," says the U.S. 7th Air Force.

"First, they deny the enemy a sanctuary. By striking his base camps and storage areas, they harass him to the extent he has difficulty assembling large numbers of troops to mount an attack.

"Second, the B52 has been used in direct support of ground troops. Khe Sanh, where the bombers struck within six-tenths of a mile of U.S. Marines, is a vivid example of their accuracy.

"The third mission is interdiction of supply and infiltration routes."

The Air Force adds that B52 raids often reduce the enemy to a "state of shock."

The bombers now fly about 1,800 sorties a month. Last April, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird announced the sortie rate would be cut to 1,600 a month effective July 1 as part of the general cutback in federal spending.

Elsewhere in the war, U.S. headquarters reported 160 North Vietnamese troops were killed in heavy fighting Tuesday near the allied combat base of Gio Linh and about four miles south of the eastern flank of the demilitarized zone.

U.S. Marines backed by artillery and fighter-bombers were credited with killing 102 of the enemy, while South Vietnamese infantrymen claimed another 58 killed.

Marine losses were reported as 17 killed and 34 wounded. No South Vietnamese casualties were reported.

$300,000 School Bond Issue Passes

BLUE SPRINGS, Mo. (AP) —Blue Springs voters passed a $300,000 school bond issue Tuesday but for the fourth time rejected a proposed school levy increase.

The bond issue was approved 991 to 493, five more than the required two-thirds majority.

The requested 50-cent increase in the school operating fund failed by three votes, 985 to 494. If passed the levy would have been $4.95 per $100 assessed valuation.

Lindsay To Form New Party

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay, defeated in his bid for the Republican mayoral nomination, said today he will form a new "urban party" and appeal to independents and liberals in the Democratic and Republican parties in the fall mayoral election.

Lindsay, who said he would remain a Republican, said that State Sen. John J. Marchi, who defeated him, had been "captured by the forces of the ultra right.

"He stands for negativism," Lindsay said, "and appeals to the forces of hatred and divisiveness."

"My theme in the campaign," he said, "will be 'a mayor for all the city.' We will create an independent line for a new urban party."

The mayor said no name had been chosen for the new party. But he is already on the ballot as the candidate of the Liberal party.

Lindsay, who lost in a mayoral primary that echoed the results of recent elections in Los Angeles and Minneapolis, warned that any Republican leader who supports Marchi in the general election campaign "had better look very carefully."

Lindsay, asked if he was referring to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who had said he would support the primary winner, replied that if it fit, "Well, that's the case."

New York's two Republican senators, Jacob K. Javits and Charles E. Goodell, have said they would support Lindsay even if he lost.

"I hope," Lindsay told a news conference, "one day to bring New York's Republican party back to the progressive principles which had won victory for many in the city and state."

Lindsay's two running mates in the primary, Fioravante Perrotta and Sanford Garelik, won their primary races but joined Lindsay in the news conference to say they will support Lindsay rather than their formal ticket leader, Marchi.

"We started as a team and will continue as a team," Perrotta said.

The same conservative trend that hit Lindsay also wrecked former Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner's comeback bid Tuesday.

The final unofficial count for Lindsay was 106,358 against the 111,725 for Marchi, a little-known state senator from Staten Island.

Wagner lost to Italian-born City Comptroller Mario A. Procaccino, who rejected the label of "law-and-order candidate" but was the most conservative in a five-man Democratic field. He won with only about a third of the vote.

Bronx Borough President Herman Badillo, who was born in Puerto Rico, ran a close third. Author Norman Mailer and Rep. James H. Scheuer trailed.

The vote was Procaccino 252,283, Wagner 221,605, Badillo 215,381, Mailer 41,136, Scheuer 38,631.

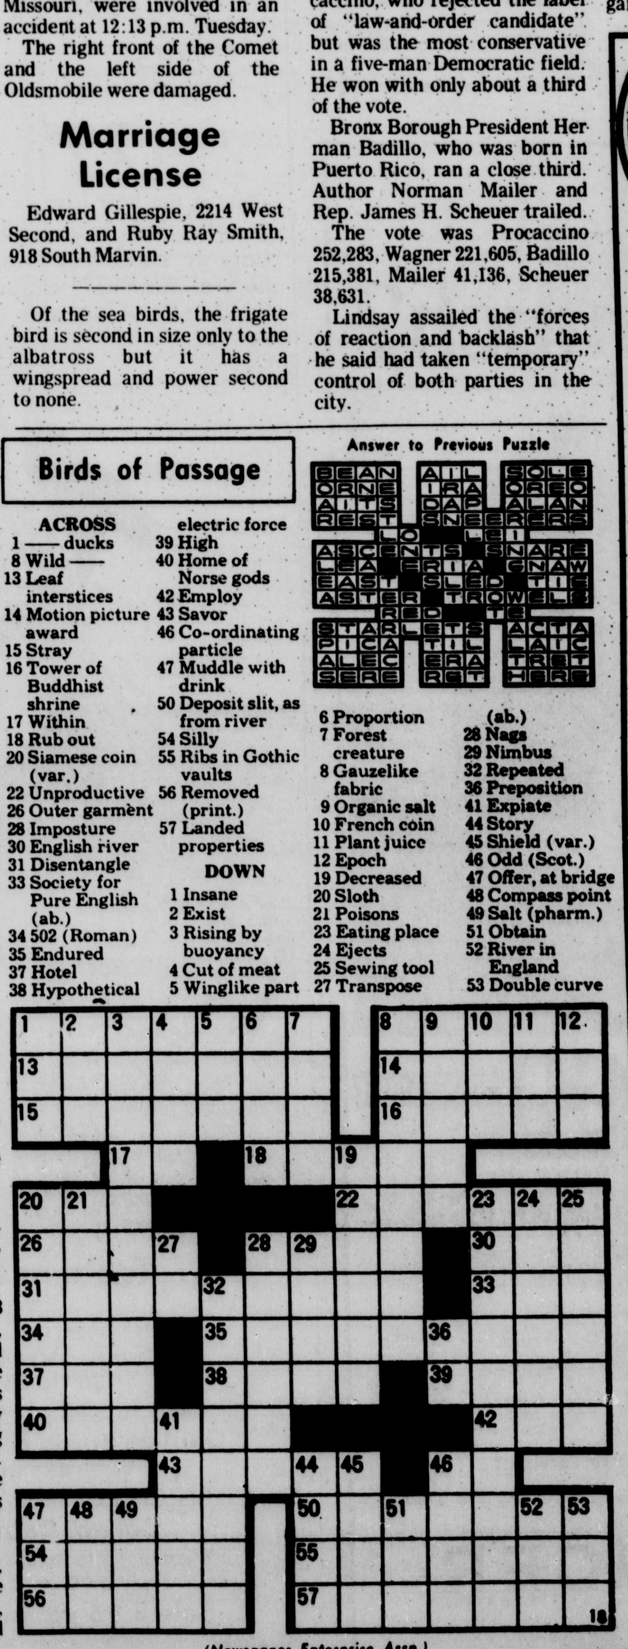

Lindsay assailed the "forces of reaction and backlash" that he said had taken "temporary" control of both parties in the city.

Three are Named On Dean's List

One Sedalian and two area students at Northeast Missouri State College, Kirksville, were named to the Dean's honor list for the spring quarter, with grade point averages above 3.5.

They were Thomas Logan, Sedalia, Cathy Powell, Clinton, and Richard Brimer, Gravois Mills.

Dirty Twist To Hippie 'Happening'

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A hippie "happening" which included performances of the sex act in a public street erupted into violence when police tried to break it up.

More than 400 city, county and state police finally swept across the University of Michigan campus and adjoining streets Tuesday night to clear the area of about 1,500 persons, including students.

Eleven policemen were injured by rocks, bottles and other missiles. One officer was hit by a fire bomb. Another suffered a serious kidney injury. Throwing of rocks and debris continued into this morning.

Police retaliated with tear gas charges and arrested 39 adults and three juveniles. Two women were charged with malicious destruction of police cars.

Robben Flemming, the university president, spent three hours walking between police lines and groups of students, trying to prevent further violence.

The hippies had held a comparatively mild celebration Monday night, featuring dancing and motorcycle stunt riding in a three-block stretch of South University Street, on the edge of the campus.

Skip Taube, a hippie leader, asked the city administration Tuesday for permission to stage another happening. Permission was refused and police gathered to enforce the ban.

"There were numerous type things going on tonight that were not the type of thing to do in public," declared Police Chief Walter Krasny.

Witnesses said at least two couples performed the sex act in view of a large crowd.

When police tried to clear the area, they were greeted with rocks and bottles. They eventually called for reinforcements of county and state police.

Flemming said, "Hood and obvious nonstudent types were throwing objects at the police rather than University of Michigan students."

SFCC Will Participate In Program

The first gathering of association members will be Aug. 18-22 at UMR for a symposium.

POWDER LINE

By Lynda Bernhardt

What's your pet peeve? We all have them no matter how easy-going we are.

In general, some pet peeves everyone seems to share are:

Rainy weekends — Especially if you have worked indoors the other five SUNNY weekdays; the driver who cuts in front of you and takes the parking space you labored so long to find, and having the guy you let ahead of you in line, get the last ticket or win the free prize which could have been yours if you hadn't been in the "do a good deed" mood.

But let's get down to specifics. We all have pet peeves that are individually unique to each of us and may never phase our friends.

For instance, I know of one friend who dislikes speckled bathroom mirrors, while another told me she just looks around the specks.

For some people squeezing the toothpaste tube in the middle is a definite no-no, while others fly into a rage when the toothpaste cap is left off.

One woman I know seems to fight a constant war with the grocery store shopping carts. She selects one from the inseparable group and spends more time in disentangling her chosen cart than in making her shopping selections.

We all know that back seat drivers are nerve-racking, but what about a front seat driver? Other highway pet peeves include the driver in front of you who just can't decide which lane he prefers so he just takes his alloted section from the middle and insists on running 20 miles an hour under the speed limit.

What about taking four children to a drive-in restaurant for hamburgers, and as the ketchup runs your temperature rises as you realize there are no napkins? Does someone chewing ice jangle your nerves?

Don't you find it aggravating when you need to know the time and remember that you forgot to wind your watch?

It's infuriating to find just the dress, shoes, etc., you've been searching for and learn that the size is too large (small) and there will be no more in supply.

How's your cool after dropping an egg on the floor? Speaking of cool, how's your disposition after spending a day in a 50 degree office with a drafty air-conditioner?

Personal pet peeves overheard in general include: losing the Jeff City paper; being tickled; losing at pool; naturally curly hair; gaining weight; losing weight; working; having someone know what your pet peeve really is.

Chop fine the tops of celery and add to a barbecue sauce.

For a quick dessert, fold together thick sweetened applesauce and beaten white of egg; serve with a sauce made from packaged instant vanilla pudding.

PIN-WORMS

A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . small, easy-to-take tablets . . . special sizes for children and adults.

TU Hurricanes Advance By Defeating NYU, 2-0

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Dour Gene Shell, not one given to overestimating his position, admits he's got the rest of the field in the 23rd NCAA baseball College World Series right where he wants it.

Shell's University of Tulsa Hurricane slipped past New York University 2-0 Tuesday night to become the tourney's only unbeaten team.

Even more important, Shell said, Tulsa got to its envied position without having to extend its front-line pitching in the fourth round.

"We're in good shape now," said Shell after Reg Rowe and Jay Weinheimer had combined to blank the Violets on six hits to notch Tulsa's third straight tourney victory and run its season record to 39-3.

"We've got no sweat now," he added, making reference to his pitching situation. "We're fat. If they beat us now, they have to beat our best."

Shell will throw his ace, freshman right-hander Cliff Butcher, 9-1, against Arizona State tonight in the fourth round, then has his No. 2 man, sophomore right-hander Steve Rogers, 8-0, ready for Thursday night's semifinals.

He also has sophomore left-hander Pat Carleton, 5-1, in reserve.

Arizona State, which eased past Massachusetts 4-2 Tuesday to remain alive in the loser's bracket, will send Lerrin LaGrow, 13-1, to the mound to try to stop Tulsa's dash toward the national title.

LaGrow pitched ASU to a 2-1 first-round victory over UCLA.

Tonight's other game pits Texas, a 14-1 victor of Mississippi, against NYU at 5:30 p.m. Tulsa and ASU will follow.

The Longhorns, who put on the biggest power display of the tournament Tuesday to eliminate Ole Miss, will pitch Larry Hardy, 5-3, against NYU's Carl Marino, 3-3.

Shell and NYU Coach Larry Geracioti agreed neither of their teams played as well as they could Tuesday night.

"We were lucky to get both our runs," Shell said. "They made a careless cutoff play and an error to give us our runs."

"We made some bad plays and didn't get the hitting," Geracioti said.

Tulsa's first run came on Les Rogers' double, which NYU right fielder Fred Levine bobbled, then threw to the wrong base to let a runner score from second.

Weinheimer then doubled, went to third on a wild pitch and continued to score when the catcher dropped the ball on the play at the plate for an error.

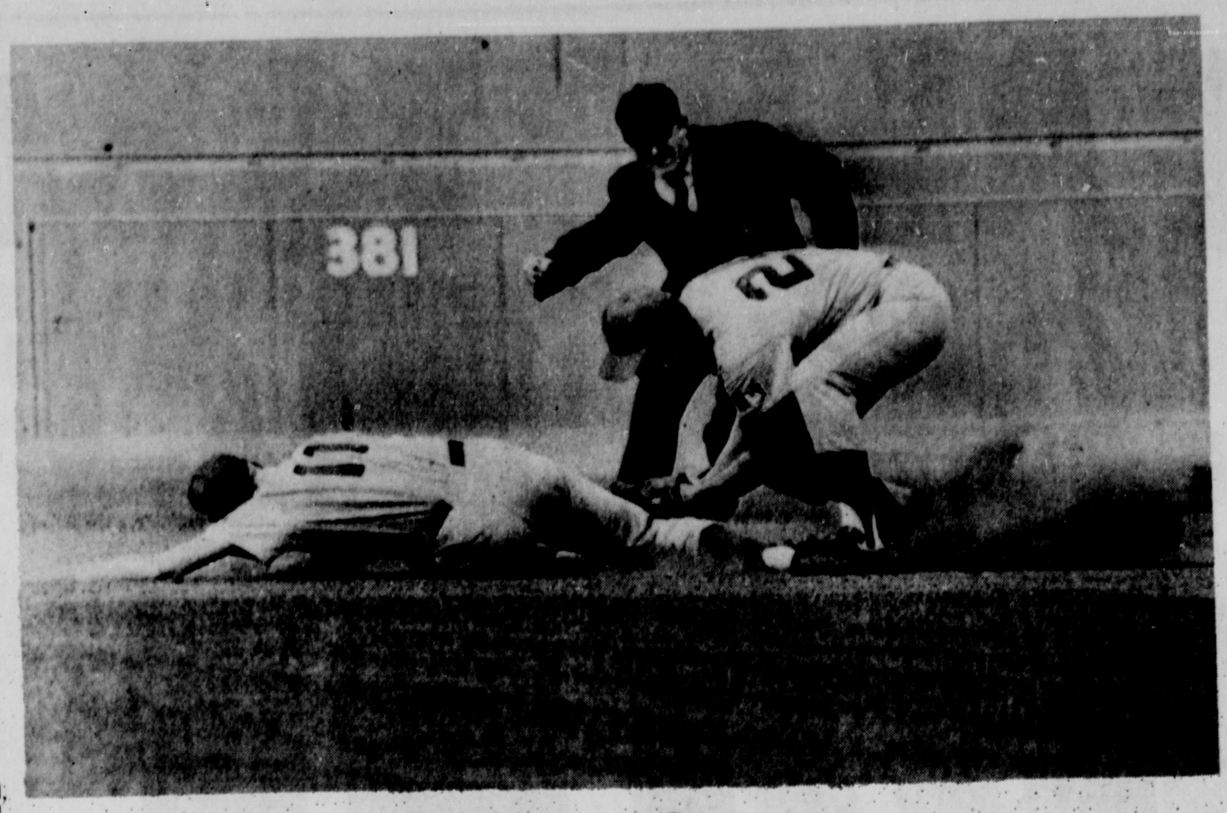

Texas pounded out three doubles, two triples and home runs by Pat Brown and David Hall to crush Mississippi.

Arizona State erupted for four runs by lashing three triples in the fifth inning and stood off Massachusetts, which got a home run from Bob Hansen.

Good Catch

Although the word "PLEASE" is misspelled on the sign, it didn't bother Jack Hawkins of rural Sedalia (right) when his picture was snapped with this 14 pound channel cat he caught at Fletcher's Resort on the King's River near Eagle Rock. Pictured with Hawkins is Jim Fletcher also of Sedalia. The fish was caught during a float trip that started at Eureka Springs, Ark. and ended at Eagle Rock, in the southeastern corner of Missouri.

Republicans vs. Democrats

The Republicans beat the Democrats Tuesday, 7-2, for their seventh straight victory in eight games in the annual Congressional Baseball game at Robert F. Kennedy Stadium. Rep. Tom Klepee (R-N.D.) is tagged out at second base on a pick off play by Senator Dirch Bayh (D-Ind.). The throw was from pitcher Rep. Henry Gonzales, (D-Tex.). (UPI)

Dr. Pepper Games Set for Tonight

Weather permitting the Sedalia Dr. Pepper team will tangle with Warrensburg tonight in a double header, beginning at 7:30 p.m. at Housel Park.

Werneke and Fry are scheduled to handle the mound assignments for Dr. Pepper; Grupe will be behind the plate.

While manager Dick Cole of Warrensburg has not stated his lineup, reports say he has a "young and hustling ball club."

Sedalia Lions Travel to Columbia

Weather permitting, the Sedalia Ban Johnson Lions will travel to Columbia tonight to attempt to better their current 1-1 record.

Although no starting lineup has been announced, Mike Kraxberger will probably be on the mound for the Lions. His last outing dropped his season's won lost record to 1-1 when the Jefferson City Bears downed the locals, 7-2, last Thursday night at Liberty Park.

The Jefferson City-Columbia contest was cancelled last night due to wet weather.

Bosox Pick Signs

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox have announced the signing of Noel Jenke, their first pick in the recent free agent draft. Jenke, a three-sport star at the University of Minnesota, will be assigned to the Louisville AAA farm club, the team said.

To Speed Up Golf

NEW YORK (AP) — Golfers should be handicapped for slow or fast play as well as for scoring averages, a leading management consultant suggested today.

"We must eliminate the traffic jams on our courses—the game is becoming more drudgery than fun," said Roger R. Crane, a vice president of Wofac Company, a division of Science Management Corp.

A 15-handicap player weary of cooling his heels half an hour on virtually every tee and taking five hours to play a round that produces more ulcers than fun. Crane a graduate of MIT with a degree from Harvard, went to the computer to find an answer.

"We programmed a regulation golf course and fed 5,000 cards into the computer representing the playing habits of week-end golfers," he said. "Our finding was that the current system of scheduling tee-off times both at country clubs and municipal courses is completely lacking in discipline.

"We found that there are traffic jams at various spots on the course, usually the par threes. Players took as much as five hours to get around. There were long waits. This is exasperating and frustrating.

"A businessman fights commuter trains, taxis and subways five days a week. He waits for the train. Taxis get hung up in traffic. The elevator is crowded and slow.

"On the week-end he goes to play golf just to get relief from this kind of life, and what does he find? More waiting, more traffic jams, more frustrations."

With the computer, Crane has come upon what he believes is at least a part solution.

He's not selling anything. He can't can it. He can't market it. He can only try to reduce the aggravation of a friendly game of golf.

"We should have fixed tee-off times and have them better spaced, he explained. "Instead of sending players off the tee as soon as the fairway is cleared, we should gave a gap of at least 10 minutes. This way the players could get around the course without any jam-ups or waits.

"Granted, we cannot necessarily get as many around the course in a condensed period of time.

Two Shutouts In L.L. Majors

Third National Bank, Teamsters and Pepsi Cola were Little League victors, Tuesday night in majors action.

Third National shutout Burkholders, 15-0. Mitchell was the winning pitcher, while Hendrickson was tagged with the loss. Mitchell and Schroeder hit homers.

Teamsters edged the Jaycees, 10-7 behind the pitching of Parrish. Harrison took the loss for the Jaycees.

Pat Fiene pitched Pepsi Cola to a 10-0 shutout over Kroger; Randy Patrick took the loss.

Coca, Cola, Machinists Take Victories

Coca Cola downed Sunrise Optimist, 4-2 and the Machinists edged Noon Optimist, 3-2 in Tuesday night's Junior Babe Ruth games.

Randy Kidwell was the losing pitcher, but he collected three hits for the night, including one home run; he also struck out 10 batters.

Smith, the winning pitcher for Coca Cola, struck out six.

Willie Reed hit a solo home run in the second inning for Machinists, his second of the season, as they powered their way to a 3-2 win over Noon Optimist. Moyer was the winning hurler, while McCutchen took the loss.

A ruling was made during a meeting at the Centennial Park Junior Babe Ruth diamond on two protested games between Adco-Sunrise Optimist and Rotary-S and M. The penalty for an illegal player in the lineup was changed from a forfeited game to the professional ruling of playing the game over.

New Track Coach At Smith-Cotton

Gary Pepin has resigned as head track coach at California High School in California, Mo., to accept the head track and assistant football position at Smith-Cotton High School.

While at California, Coach Pepin's track team won the tri-county conference championship both years.

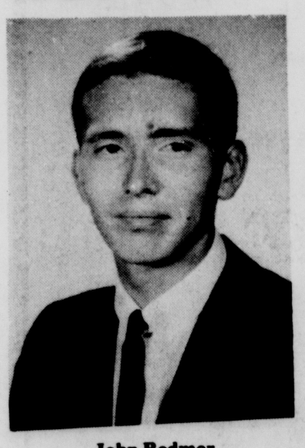

Khoury Results

Adco defeated the Jets Tuesday night in Girls Khoury League softball, 11-3, in the Petite Division.

Pepsi Cola was a 19-12 loser to Rod and Gun and Sedalia Implement was thumped by Elks, 23-2 in Chic Division play.

Coca Cola won a 7-4 decision over the Sprites in Debutante action.

O'Fallon Tech Cager Signs To State Fair

John Bodmer

John Bodmer, a 22-year old ex-Army and ex-O'Fallon Tech High School basketball star, has signed a letter of intent to attend State Fair Community College this fall.

Bodmer will attend the Pettis-Benton County Juco on an assistance grant under the GI Bill of Rights.

The 6'4", 185 pound forward received two varsity letters in each basketball, track and cross country, while attending the St. Louis suburb high school.

Having recently completed a two-year hitch in the Army, Head Roadrunner Coach Fred Wehking, feels John's added maturity will prove to be a valuable contribution to the squad.

During his senior campaign at O'Fallon, Bodmer averaged 10 points and 15 caroms per contest.

Wehking commented, "John is a dedicated basketball player, who wants to play; he is smart, unselfish, he can shoot and rebound with the best of them. He needs some improvement on his agility and ball handling, but he should be a real asset to the Roadrunner fortunes the next two seasons."

John is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Bodmer, St. Louis.

Three Wins In a Row For the Cards

The St. Louis Cardinals won their third game in a row, 2-0, over the Montreal Expos Tuesday night and moved to within one game of .500, the closest they have been to the break-even point this year.

Lefty Steve Carlton, 7-4, won his fifth straight game, but needed help in the eight. Joe Hoerner put the stopper on.

In Kansas City, the Royals Oakland Athletics were rained out. The game will be made up in a twi-night doubleheader tonight.

The Royals will start Dick Drago and Jim Rooker and Oakland, Chuck Dobson and John Odom.

Curt Flood's pinch double in the seventh drove in both St. Louis runs.

Carlton allowed only four hits over 7 1-3 innings and Hoerner was touched for one in finishing up.

Barnes Discusses Charter Before Sunrise Optimists

Donald Barnes, assistant prosecuting attorney and member of the Sedalia Charter Commission, was the speaker at the Sunrise Optimist Club meeting Tuesday morning at State Fair Restaurant.

Barnes talked on the provisions of the charter which the commission finalized. He emphasized that the charter itself is not final, just the individual committee's reports.

Sedalia has only those powers that are specifically provided for by the state statutes, Barnes stated, under the present form of government, but he went on to explain that under charter government it would have the provisions for all powers of self-government except those that are specifically prohibited by state statute.

As an example he noted that Sedalia now can only tax those merchants listed by the statue. Today, he said, there are merchants and businesses that were not even thought of in the early 1900's, such as computer services.

The charter, Barnes said, is drawn up in initial form. Earl Crawford has now to check the legal language, then send it to Columbia where an ex-mayor will check its consistency with other charters and with the state constitution.

In explaining the form of government under the charter, Barnes said that there would be a mayor and council elected in the same manner as now. The mayor will be a member of the council, giving it a total of nine-four councilmen, one from each ward, four councilmen-at-large and the Mayor, who will not have veto power.

Under the charter, elections will be non-partisan, and candidates will not be listed on the ballot with a political designation. However, individual parties may campaign for their own candidates and tout them as Democrats or Republicans.

Any individual, Barnes said, may have his name appear on the ballot by simply presenting a petition with the names of 100 voters. This should attract more qualified candidates, Barnes pointed out, and also the voters will vote more intelligently.

The term of office for mayor and councilman, will be four years, he said. These will be non-paid positions; however, the mayor will have a $100-a-month expense account. This, said Barnes, should attract candidates who truly desire to serve the city.

The charter, according to Barnes, provides for a municipal administrator, strictly an administrative position. The appointee will not have power to dictate policy, nor to appoint or hire or fire personnel. The salary of the administrator has been left open to the charter commission.

In order to attract a qualified person to the job it will take between $16 and $18,000 a year, he said. The present salary of the mayor, and council is approximately $14,400, Barnes said, which will be deleted by the charter. Barnes feels that by incorporating purchasing powers of the entire city into the administrator's office there will be a savings of $20-$30,000 a year.

The charter would delete pay for city board members. Under the present system the water board members are paid and the hospital board members are not.

There would be no mass job deletion by accepting the charter, Barnes said. Those in the present positions would automatically hold their jobs until the terms of the presently elected officers expire. Also, he stated, those same people would be best qualified to work under the administrator in the charter government because of their experience.

The speaker was introduced by the Rev. Marvin Nobles, program chairman, who also gave the invocation.

Nelson Nix, president-elect, presided over the meeting.

Jerry Smith, new manager of Dial Finance, was a guest of Nix.

Paper Sheets Stand Commissioners' Test

CHICAGO (AP) — Cook county commissioners are sleeping on the job.

The commissioners tested disposable paper sheets the past two weeks and approved their use for county institutions. Commissioners said the sheets, which cost about 40 cents apiece in bulk orders, will be cheaper than cloth sheets.

Move to Eradicate Johnson Grass

By RALPH JONES
Democrat-Capital Staff Writer

With only a small appropriation from the county court, the Pettis County Johnson Grass Control Board is laying the groundwork for a tremendous eradication program ahead.

This work includes inspection of farms throughout the county, visits to various other counties where a workable program is in operation and laying out various test plots around the county to test different methods of getting rid of the pesky weed.

A survey of the county revealed more than 100 farms infested and in need of attention, plus trouble spots inside the Sedalia city limits and on land adjacent to the State Fairgrounds. Milton C. Mathew, co-ordinator for the board, explained that the grass probably got its start around the Fairgrounds from seeds spread from hay hauled in by exhibitors during Fair Week.

"Every trouble spot, no matter how small, will have to be eliminated before the county is rid of the pest. It can take over a farm in a few years and make it impossible to grow crops. The land, once covered with Johnson Grass, is fit only for grazing," Mathew explained.

The grass can be spread in several ways — wind can blow the seeds, the seeds may wash downstream and infest every farm through which the stream passes, they can be carried on vehicles from farm to farm, they can be present in hay hauled from one area to another, spread by trucks and trains and many other methods.

Combines should be thoroughly cleaned before entering a new field, particularly in Pettis County where infestation is prevalent, Mathew noted.

Pettis County accepted the local-option Johnson grass control law last November, and the control board was set up. The board chairman is Walter Nicholson and the other members are Russell McFatrich, William Pittman and Mathew.

Three observation plots have been set up in Pettis County — on the Gordon Callis & Son farm near Longwood, on the Paul Selken farm near Smithton east of Route W on Route D, and on the Chancy farm operated by G. W. Meyer, on Route C just south of the Flat Creek bridge.

On the Callis and Selken farms various chemicals have been used to test their effectiveness, and the plot will not be cultivated this summer.

On the Chancy farm, Dowpon was sprayed to kill the growing plants and the field will be later plowed and sprayed with Treflan and seeded to soybeans to test this method of ridding the field of infestation.

The control board had only $1,500 to work with this year, as tax money authorized by the voters last November will not start coming in until late this fall. Out of this fund appropriated by the county court, the board had to allow some $200 for office space in the extension office area. Many of the test chemicals were furnished by the manufacturer and were applied by volunteer firms.

The board has contacted many farmers, as well as the city sanitation department, the railroads and the Highway Department to enlist their support in the eradication effort. Farmers and anyone else interested in the results of the tests have been encouraged to visit the test plots and talk with members of the control board about the problem.

"Eradication of the Johnson grass problem is not as yet a mandatory measure. We hope through these tests and talks to various concerned groups to bring out the importance of eliminating this problem through voluntary measures," Mathew concluded.

Test Plot

This test plot set up by the Pettis County Johnson Grass Control Board on the Gordon Callis & Son farm near Longwood shows the extent of infestation along with the effectiveness of different methods of control. Milton C. Mathew, co-ordinator for the board, makes note of the progress of each method used. (Democrat-Capital Photo)

Suspend a Search For Downed Plane

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The Air Force suspended search efforts Saturday night for a four-engine reconnaissance plane missing since June 5 with 19 men aboard.

The Coast Guard ended its search for the plane Friday. The Air Force said nothing that might be connected with the missing Strategic Air Command RC135 jet was sighted during Saturday's search.

The plane disappeared on a flight from Hemya, near the tip of the Aleutian Island chain, to Eielson Air Force Base, Fairbanks, where it was based.

Scholarship From a Bank Is Awarded

CALIFORNIA — David Barry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barry, has been named winner of the $500 Farmers and Traders Bank aid program scholarship, made available each year to a graduate of California High School.

Barry has been accepted for enrollment at the University of Missouri-Rolla, where he will study engineering.

He was salutatorian of the 1969 California High School graduating class, a member of the National Honor Society and a three-year football letterman.

Jerry King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil L. King, California, has been named alternate for the scholarship as the first runner-up.

Tiny Island Almost Ready for Tourists

YAP (AP) — The tourist commission feels this tiny Micronesian island will be ready for tourists in another decade.

But the commission, after a year of study, also told the district legislature it found little interest among residents in the menial hotel jobs a tourist boom would require.

"The labor would have to be imported," the commission said.

Kicksville Dance Set For Friday

The Bittersweet from Marshall will be featured at the first Kicksville dance of the year at 8:30 p.m. Friday on the Missouri State Fairgrounds.

The dance, in the Kicksville area just north of the midway grounds, will kickoff the summer's activities for the Kicksville Teen Council, which sponsors youth activities for the Missouri State Fair.

All of the Kicksville dances are set up by members of the Teen Council. The members come from high schools around the state. The council members for 1969 are: Ginnie Drake and Ken Albin, Tipton; Tom Brown and Rick Fitzwilliam, Sedalia; Terry Wolfe and Butch Cochran, Boonville; Sandy Wheeler and Pattie Church, Clinton; Don Dalton and Brad Pemberton, Columbia; Terry Woodsmall, Marshall; Linda Lyle, Versailles; Jim Bondurant and Bob Badger, Warrensburg. Co-ordinator for the group is Dick Nash of Sedalia.

Ann Landers

Crybaby Has Set Emotional Pattern

Dear Ann Landers: I'm mad at myself, ashamed, disgusted and upset. Can you help me?

I'm 16, a girl, and the world's worst crybaby. If I get bawled out by a teacher I cry. If my team loses I cry. If somebody yells at somebody else I feel sorry for the person getting yelled at and I cry. It wouldn't be so bad if I cried in private but I don't. I cry right in front of everybody. And it shows for an hour after. My eyes get red and swollen. Once a friend came up to me and asked if somebody had died.

I hate myself for being so sensitive. Is there a solution to this problem or am I going to swim in tears for the rest of my life? — Damp Hankies

Dear Damp Hank: Accept the fact that you're a crier and you'll always be one. It's part of your emotional pattern. Accept the fact, too, that it isn't all bad. Crying is a healthy way to relieve tension. People who can't cry are in serious trouble. Since your inability to hold back the waterworks is embarrassing, excuse yourself promptly when you feel the tears coming — and have your cry in private.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 66 years old and retired. In the past few months you've printed letters from people who have lost weight through some unconventional method. I hope you'll print my letter, although it may sound crazy. It might not work for everybody but it took 20 pounds off me and my doctor said it has added years to my life.

I read somewhere it's not what you eat but when you eat that counts. The idea is to pack in a whopping big breakfast, burn up the calories during the day and go to sleep at night on a light stomach.

I was never much of a breakfast eater, in fact I had the idea I couldn't eat much in the morning. I used to grab a cup of coffee and a piece of toast on the run.

I decided to try the new routine and it worked wonders. Yesterday my breakfast consisted of a large glass of orange juice, a plate of spaghetti and meat balls, a half pint of ice cream on a slab of cherry pie. Of course after that I couldn't eat much lunch or dinner. A light snack satisfied me.

If people say to you, "That's not for me. I can't eat in the morning," tell them they can if they really want to. I know because I'm doing it. — Streamlined at 66.

Dear Streamlined: I can't argue with your results but I wouldn't recommend your kooky diet to anyone else. The only safe way to lose weight is to reduce the intake of calories while maintaining balanced nutrition — under the watchful eye of a physician, of course.

Children vs. Parents

These days we hear much about the laxity of parental responsibility and the degenerating effect it has upon children.

Admittedly parents have a responsibility and most of them endeavor to live up to it.

However, this blaming of the parents every time a child goes wrong is a theme that seems to have been toasted to the burnt stage.

A time comes in every domestic establishment when the youngsters reach the "know it all" stage. If by some legerdemain this psychological stubbornness could be transmuted into a physical obstruction no foreign enemy could blast through such obstacles.

Juvenile cocksureness has always been somewhat of a formidable barricade against parental advice. Many children are so temperamentally constituted they firmly believe that parental guidance is simply a modern device used for child inquisition, as though parents had no love for them but were simply trying to restrict youth's liberties and thereby gloat over their dominance.

This warped interpretation of parental concern for their offspring is quite prevalent. Some children set out to embarrass their parents by deliberate misbehavior as a means of reprisal against pleas for moderation in their conduct. This gets them nowhere except into a morass of trouble, if not now, later in life.

Those youngsters who stick their fingers too far into the fire are going to be burned. That is a fundamental law of nature, trite as the old axiom may sound.

Blaming parents for all youths' frailties implies the adolescent mind lacks intelligence. Youngsters today are not dumb, however. They can do much common sense moralizing for themselves if they will only call a moratorium on their own stubbornness and selfishness.

The trouble with youth is it resents interference with freedom of action. When, defiantly, youth takes too much liberty with freedom and is hurt in the process, youth's first impulse thereafter is to blame the parents and seek the latter's aid in shielding them from the consequences.

Parents are not as moronic as children seem to think. Instead of challenging the motives of their parents when they offer advice, youth needs to take a peek into the looking glass and become acquainted with the real culprit.

Patman Seeks Interest Rate Probe

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana, Tex., plans to dig into a very important, little known factor behind the 8½ per cent prime interest rate charged by the big New York banks.

Patman has been a lifelong foe of high interest rates, points out that the zooming rates have increased the national debt to a point where it costs the taxpayers $15 billion more per year.

But, in this case, Patman has tracked down the fact that the big New York banks had complained to the Federal Reserve Board that its anti-inflation measures were hurting them more than smaller banks. The big banks found it difficult to raise the money required by their blue-chip customers. So rather than risk a drop in their own profits, the big banks upped their interest rates to the highest point in American history.

They have also warned privately that there will be more rate increases if the Federal Reserve Board continues the tight-money pressure.

Patman proposes to probe this. He is worried over what higher interest rates will do to the installment buying of homes, automobiles, refrigerators, TV sets, and other appliances. It could, he thinks, lead to a serious recession.

Whether Patman can stage a probe, however, will be interesting. It so happens that at least 100 congressmen own stock in banks. Several others conceal banking interests in the name of relatives. Even more congressmen collect legal fees from financial institutions. A spot check of 50 congressional law firms revealed that 40 of them represent banks.

In addition, the American Bankers Association, Mortgage Bankers Association, American Industrial Bankers Association, the U.S. Savings and Loan League, have been quite generous in handing out lecture fees to members of Congress. The U.S. Savings and Loan League, for example, paid Republican Senate Leader Everett Dirksen a whopping $3,500 fee for a speech.

Patman's own Banking and Currency Committee is also stacked with members who own stock in banks. It will be interesting to see whether he is able to get his investigation off the ground.

—Reading For Rivers—

Recommended reading to Rep. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C.: The new book "The War Business" by George Thayer. It reveals how the USA has fomented war by dumping $50 billion worth of arms around the world in the last 15 years. The Pakistan-Indian war was fought with American equipment on both sides. When an embargo was placed on arms to Pakistan, West Germany sold Pakistan 90 F-86s furnished it by the USA and with USA blessing... CBS, on the lookout for gun-running TV footage, underwrote an anti-Castro invasion force, then pulled out at an overall loss of $100,000... In many cases, nations got the wrong weapons, such as Saudi Arabia which purchased Lightning jets, though it had no pilots to fly them; and Guinea which purchased mobile anti-tank guns, though none of its neighbors operated tank units to threaten Guinea... Peru purchased two old cruisers for $5 million each, though it had trained personnel to operate only one at a time.... The demise of Chancellor Erhard's government in West Germany in 1966 was due largely to his purchase of American military equipment which Germany did not need, did not want and could not afford... even Rep. Rivers, No. 1 protector of the military, will learn a few things from this book.

—Pepsi-Cola Diplomacy—

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, president of Nationalist China, has vetoed the Nixon administration's proposal to recognize Mongolia.

Mongolia is the pro-Russian desert country, once part of China, which forms a buffer between China and Russia. The State Department wanted to have more American influence in this strategic part of the world. Our Asian allies also favored extending our influence there.

But there was one objector — namely, Chiang Kai-shek. And his influence with President Nixon was enough to override all the White House advisers and all our Asiatic allies.

When Nixon was a practicing lawyer he represented Pepsi-Cola. And when Coca-Cola was about to get its foot on the island of Formosa, Nixon flew to Formosa and persuaded Chiang Kai-shek to ban Coke, give Pepsi a monopoly.

—Merry-Go-Round—

Dean Acheson, the ex-secretary of state, has a forgiving memory. He is about the only Democrat supporting Nixon in Nixon's criticism of the military critics... In the 1950s Richard Nixon, then vice-president, described Dean Acheson as presiding over "the college of cowardly Communist containment." ... Sen. Stephen Young, the Ohio Democrat who says he's not going to retire at the age of 80, has a sharp memory. He is probably the youngest member of the Senate in point of vigor — and courage... Sen. Tom Dodd has a long memory. When the big Belgian-French copper interests were trying to separate Katanga from the Congo, Dodd delivered canned speeches which appeared to have been written for him by the Katanga lobby. One man who opposed him was McMurtie Godley, U.S. ambassador to the Congo. Last week Dodd held up the confirmation of Godley to be U.S. ambassador to Laos... A trek of Washington socialites to Mississippi to celebrate the inauguration of Charles Evers as the first Negro mayor in Mississippi since Reconstruction days is exactly what won't help Evers in Mississippi. Nevertheless, a lot of Washingtonians, headed by Ethel Kennedy, are planning to fly to Mississippi in special planes... Speaker John McCormack, scion of a large and struggling family in south Boston, never dreamed he would have a school named after him. But the other day he addressed by telephone the graduating class of the John W. McCormack School in Boston.

Guest Editorial

ARIZONA REPUBLIC: End to Starvation. — It is hard for most Americans, many of whom are overweight or must watch their diets closely, to realize that the major preoccupation of millions of human beings throughout the world is obtaining enough food. Entire villages and regions are plagued by famine.

Now, suddenly a miracle — one born of the scientific age — has come to pass. And it appears that mass starvation can be prevented for the forseeable future, and perhaps prevented altogether.

The miracle is new varieties of rice and wheat which have enabled farmers to triple their yield and to reduce their growing season. The extent of this miracle can be seen in the fact that Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman, during a recent visit to South Vietnam, predicted in Saigon that that war-torn nation will change from a rice importer to a rice exporter by 1971.

The importance of this miracle cannot be overstated.

Looking Backward

NINETY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Capt. A. Parker has sold his Broadway residence to Mr. John Scullen for the sum of $10,000 — which is about half what it is worth ... The construction of several new bridges is being considered by the sitting Pettis county court ... Dr. Carl Murray delivered a tape worm from one of his patients, an employee of the M.K. & T. railroad. It measured 18 feet and seven inches. The gentleman had been troubled with the "varmint" for about three months. The doctor calls it a broad beef tape worm, developed from eating rare beef, and that, perhaps, somewhat diseased.

FORTY YEARS AGO

J. R. McAlister of the McAlister Motor Co., has let the contract for construction of a large garage building to be erected on the northwest corner of Second street and Kentucky avenue. Work was begun by Dean and Hancock. Mr. McAlister will probably occupy the building in addition to the present location of the Buick and Cadillac agency at 309 West Second street.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q — I just finished paying some big medical bills. What records should I keep in case I get audited?

A — You should have sufficient records to show that the expenses were deductible and that they were paid in the tax year for which the return was filed.

Keep your cancelled checks or receipts that will establish the amount of the expense, the date paid and the purpose. It is a good practice to have a special envelope, cigar box or similar place where tax records can be stored. This will make it easier to prepare an accurate return next year.

Generally, to be deductible the expense must be paid for the prevention, treatment, diagnosis or cure of a mental or physical defect or illness.

Training Unskilled, Poor To Fill N. Carolina's Jobs

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (NEA)

If the campus "revolutionaries" who shout for instant jobs for the poor were suddenly catapulted into power, they would have to hire people like young George Autry, executive director of the North Carolina Manpower Development Corp.

A former chief counsel for North Carolina Sen. Sam Ervin's subcommittee on Constitutional Rights, Autry is by student militants' standards an "establishment type." But he is doing the things they merely holler about.

When the so-called MDC was created as a private, non-profit organization under chairmanship of Charlotte banker Luther Hodges Jr., son of the former governor, Autry the lawyer was picked because the "experts" in manpower agencies had not been too effective.

Autry and his extremely able MDC staff, spurred on by young Hodges and by George Esser of the Ford Foundation here, tackled North Carolina's manpower problems like "systems approach" men—trying to fill all the gaps that had made previous efforts unworkable.

The elements of the dilemma are basically simple. An MDC report explains:

"In North Carolina there is a labor surplus and there is a job surplus . . . There are reasons . . . First, the jobs are not where the labor is . . . second, the labor is not prepared to do the jobs that are coming open . . ."

A labor survey of 25 selected industries indicated that by next year 300,000 more manufacturing workers could be used just to fill the demands of expansion. But two-thirds of the manufacturing is in the central or Piedmont area, while unemployment ranges from 20 to 30 per cent in the rural eastern plains (tobacco country) and up to 20 per cent in the Appalachian mountain west.

From these great swatches of the unemployed in east and west come the migrants, black and white, who swell the northern big city ghettos where jobs are scarce or non-existent. They are fuel for the flames of riot.

The MDC's plan is to keep these people in North Carolina where they are needed. So the organization has been conducting experiments in searching out the ready-to-move unemployed, taking them to Piedmont cities for job training, educational upgrading, orientation to city and factory life, and placement.

In the beginning, too many of those trained and placed in jobs returned to the rural east. But that tide has been checked.

It was quickly discovered that rural blacks set down in the urban Piedmont were unready for their new life. The cities were so strange to them that some still were not using public buses four years after being moved. They were simply afraid.

Used to farming according to the sun, they had to be trained to live by the clock, to accept the rigid bounds of factory life and to shake their fears of the bewildering urban setting. All this was undertaken in a special pilot project at Greensboro.

As the Greensboro project closes down, to be replaced by private industrial effort, new pilot centers are shaping up at Asheville in the mountain west and Rocky Mount and New Bern in the farming east. Ultimately, MDC wants to pass the whole endeavor to private industry and the state's growing system of community colleges.

Neither Autry nor the justly praised George Esser believes MDC's efforts have yet caught on to the extent of becoming state policy with wide political and business backing. But they and others are trying—which is better than seeking to induce a miracle by shouting.

Opening lead—♣ A

In match point duplicate you are sure of a bad score any time your opponents bid and make a doubtful game contract. Even when declarer has no problems in the play you can be sure several other declarers will have stopped at part scores.

When good play is also a requisite to make game you can be sure of a really bad score. Yet this result is due only to poor luck. You held the wrong cards against the wrong opponents.

East won the second club with the king and shifted to the four of hearts. South won the trick and noted that there was no play for his contract unless trumps broke 3-2. He also noted that a 3-3 diamond break would be helpful. Could he handle a 4-2 diamond break? Possibly!

He cashed his trump ace and king of diamonds, led a diamond to dummy's queen, played a low diamond and ruffed. West could overruff or not as he chose. South was going to be able to make every trick except that one trump.

It should be noted that South's play would not hurt him if diamonds divided evenly and that he would have had no way to make his contract if East had three trumps as well as four diamonds.

What is more important is that this hand was played exactly 13 times. Seven North-South pairs stopped at part scores. Six got to game but four of them went down.

North and South received well-justified ties for top while poor East and West received unlucky ties for bottom.

Ma, Up to the Eyeballs

By BETTY CANARY

I sometimes wonder how my life would have been if my eldest could have made the football team instead of winning all those chess trophies.

"The trouble with kids today is," I said as I typed his high school theme entitled, 'ABM, Pros and Cons,' "they ask their mothers to do too much."

"I make too many typing errors and I want it to be perfect."

"The trouble with kids today is, they know all about antiballistic missiles and nothing about typing."

"Aha," he chided. "I can tell that, according to the science of Pupillometrics, you are looking at something you don't like! The pupils of the eyes dilate when you're looking at something you like and contract when . . ."

"The trouble with SOME kids is," I snarled, "they sit around squinting in their mothers' eyes while she works."

"Perhaps," he said patiently, "you feel inadequate. Sometimes parents grow too emotional about a child's knowledge of such things as ballistic missiles. I realize they weren't in existence when you were my age and therefore . . ."

"Look into my eyes now!" I cried. "I dare you!"

"Wow," he said. "The pupils are down to pinpoints!"

"Now I'm going to stop looking at you and lie down and rest for awhile," I said sweetly.

"A good idea. According to Herbert Brown, a professor at Purdue University, a person who uses his intellect principally in his work should exercise his brain just as athletes exercise their bodies or pianists practice."

"Is that why you won't get up in the morning? You're resting your active brain?"

"Brown says, 'Any organ which is being actively exercised requires a larger amount of blood and the best way to get a large amount of blood to the brain is to lie down!' "

"The trouble with you is," I said, "you read when you should be outside in the fresh air playing football."

"The interesting thing about sports," he said, following me down the hall, "is that records are being broken all the time and the question is: Are today's athletes better physically than before?"

"Vitamins," I answered.

"The answer is that while they are taller and heavier, the extra size is not what makes them better."

"You want to check my eyes again?" I suggested.

"Doctors Ernst and Peter Jokl of the University of Kentucky say that as growth has accelerated, aging has decelerated and the muscles are more powerful."

"Don't teach me any more today," I pleaded.

"Brown says that to keep your thoughts from being distracted, you should close your eyes and, as much as possible, your ears."

I thankfully placed my hands over my ears. One is never too old to learn.

Heat Rash, Diaper Rash Have Little Connection

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Although prickly heat often occurs in the diaper area, it is not to be confused with diaper rash which is more common in the colder months and may be caused by diapers made from coarse material, diapers from which all the soap has not been rinsed or, most frequently, from failure to change the diaper for two or three hours after wetting or soiling.

Heat rash is caused by an obstruction of the sweat pores. In addition to the diaper area, it may occur in skin folds where perspiration cannot readily evaporate. The best treatment is to use a minimum of clothing for your baby in hot weather and fasten his diaper very loosely. If your baby has a heat rash, use a fan or air conditioner in his room but avoid placing him in a direct draft. Give him sponge baths, using little or no soap or detergent, and follow them with a bland dusting powder. Don't use any ointments because they block the pores and aggravate the condition.

Q — Would it hurt my son, 4, to get the measles vaccine twice?

A — The killed virus vaccine is no longer recommended. If your son had this type of vaccine he should be vaccinated with the live virus vaccine. If he had the latter, no booster dose is needed. In any case, before he takes a second dose of the vaccine, he should have a skin test to see whether he has become hypersensitive to it.

Q — A neighbor boy, 6, is so tired all the time he never plays very much. He also has dark circles under his eyes. Could the fact that he had a very severe case of measles have damaged his heart and caused these symptoms?

A — The common complications of measles are pneumonia, brain damage and middle-ear infection. I know of no cases of heart disease directly attributable to measles. Some other cause for this boy's debility should be sought.

Q — My 10-month-old son has had lumps in the side of his neck since birth. The doctor says they are lymph nodes. What causes them and what do you advise?

A — Since these nodes act as screens to keep local infections from spreading throughout the body, some source of infection in your son's head should be looked for. Common sources are tonsillitis, eczema, canker sores and sinusitis. When the source is cleared up, the lumps will shrink but will not entirely disappear.

Film Stars Form Own Company

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The formation by Paul Newman, Barbra Streisand and Sidney Poitier of their own company, First Artists, quite naturally evoked memories of another amalgam of superstars, United Artists.

Last week's announcement included explanations by the three stars of why they are joining together. Newman: "The purpose of this company will be . . . to put film production on a more efficient basis." Streisand: ". . . We'll have a teamwork situation based on mutual respect and understanding." Poitier: "We have opted for leadership."

Rough translation: They aim to get more money.

If it's independence they want, that can be achieved at any film company. Any of the three can pick his or her own properties, directors and co-stars, and collect a million dollars per picture, plus a hefty share of the profits.

But their own company offers the opportunity not only for independence, but a chance to share profits with no one.

Almost exactly 50 years ago, United Artists was formed with much the same idea. The founders were the big four of the day: Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Charlie Chaplin and William S. Hart, plus the most important director, D. W. Griffith. Film historians can argue over whether members of the 1919 quartet were bigger stars than today's Newman-Streisand-Poitier. They probably were.

Chaplin described the start of United Artists in his autobiography. The five founders had been hearing rumors that the major film companies planned to merge into one giant organization that would control the industry—and hence dictate terms to stars. The quintet joined for dinner at the Alexandria Hotel, then the meeting place of the film industry, and revealed their plan to form their own company. They intended this merely as a gambit to head off the merger.

"The next day the heads of several production companies offered to resign their posts and become our president for a small salary and an interest in the new company," Chaplin wrote. "After such a reaction we decided to go through with our project."

United Artists experienced stormy days almost from the beginning. Doug and Mary were angry at Charlie because they provided the pictures while he was working out an old contract for another producer. D. W. Griffith and Bill Hart lost their vogue and dropped out of the company. Charlie objected when Doug and Mary brought in Joseph Schenck as president.

The real problems came after sound, when Doug and Mary fell from popularity and Chaplin rarely made films. They brought other partners into the company—David Selznick, Alexander Korda, Walt Disney, Samuel Goldwyn, etc. All of them left, usually complaining of inability to get along with the founding partners.

Fairbanks' death in 1939 left only Mary and Charlie among the founders. They were at odds most of the time.

The situation continued until the company neared bankruptcy. Finally in 1951, Mary and Charlie sold out to a new management that put the company on a profitable basis. United Artists proved to be best able to withstand the sweeping changes in the film industry because it lacked the heavy burden of a studio. The company merely contracts for films which are made in rented studios.

Actor Names Reagan, Wife, as Guardians

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The will of actor Robert Taylor names California Gov. Ronald Reagan and his wife Nancy as guardians of Taylor's two children in the event of the death of his widow, actress Ursula Theiss.

Reagan, a close friend of Taylor's delivered the eulogy at memorial services Wednesday. The 57-year-old actor died Sunday of lung cancer.

The will, filed in Superior Court Friday, bequeathed half the estate to the widow and with the other half set up a trust fund for the actor's mother and two children. Spokesmen estimated the estate at more than $1 million.

Not Very Cheery

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — The teen Canteen of Greater Johnstown doesn't like to see kids smoking, but it's got a smoking room in the building just the same.

And smack in its center is a wooden coffin filled with sand and yellowed cigarette butts. This is the ashtray.

It's called the Cancer Room, with X rays of good and bad lungs hanging on the black walls. It also has gray drapes and eerie blue lighting.

Whiteman Fourth of July Events

Fireworks, a teen dance, a car show and a carnival featuring 11 rides will be at Whiteman Air Force Base July 2-6, for an NCO Open Mess-sponsored "Fourth of July Jubilee."

Carnival activities and rides will be set up south of the base theater. NCO Club activities and concessions will be located behind the club.

The NCO Club and carnival area will be open to the public from 8 a.m. to midnight July 4, 5 and 6. Activities for military personnel and their families will be July 2 and 3.

The highlight of the weekend, one-hour fireworks display, will begin at 10:30 p.m. July 4 in the area south of Seventh Street and the Auto Hobby Shop. The fireworks stand and the club-sponsored individual fireworks shooting area will be open all day July 4 behind the Auto Hobby Shop on Sixth Street Terrace.

Other attractions for the weekend include a sports car display by local auto dealers, a teen dance from 5 to 7 p.m. July 4 and 5, a live KOKO country music show and dance from 1 to 3 p.m. both days and name bands at the club.

Special food and beverage concessions will open at 8 a.m. and barbecue chicken dinners will be on sale from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 4 to 6 p.m., July 4, 5 and 6.

As an added feature, a freezer-full of prime beef "on the hoof" will be given away the evening of the fifth.

Plot Is Destroyed

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — A carefully cultivated patch of marijuana in a rural cemetery was destroyed Monday by Gene Copeland, Jasper County deputy sheriff.

Copeland said the plants had been growing for about three weeks beside an old grave in the Peace Cemetery northwest of Joplin.

Scout News

Cub Pack 58 recently and presented awards to the following Cub Scouts:

Bobcat and assistant denner to Gary Weller; Wolf gold and silver arrows to Bradley Weeks and Eric Walton; Wolf award to Mike Murlean; Wolf gold arrow to Kenneth McDaniel; Bear and gold and silver arrow to Bradley Nicholson; outdoorsman and traveler to Bart Moriarty.

The next pack meeting will be a family picnic at Centennial Park shelter house at 6:30 p.m., June 20.

Miss Clydia Smith, member of Senior Troop 375, left recently, as a member of the Heart-of-Missouri Pilot Patrol to lay groundwork for a council-wide event to be offered to other Missouri Scouts in 1970, and a national event in 1971.

The purpose is to plan the national event, based on Missouri culture and heritage. Their stops included "State Fair" at the Municipal Opera in St. Louis, Mark Twain's boyhood home in Hannibal, the Churchill Memorial in Fulton and the Truman Library in Independence. Their intinerary also included a stop and camp-out at the local Camp Sakajawea.

The national event in 1971 will be based on their evaluations of the Pilot Patrol. Miss Smith is traveling with other scouts from Jefferson City and Columbia, and Miss Bonnie Closey, district adviser to the Sedalia Girl Scouts.

Miss Smith has participated in National Girl Scout events, having attended the Tennessee Trek at Gatlinburg, Tenn., last summer where they hiked along the Applachian Trial. This summer, she will particpate in the Wilderness Encampment at Charleston, W. Va. where Senior Scouts will back-pack into the Monongahela National forest for five days at a time without adults.
